Coachman in Same Family Believed to Be the Strangler-Attempts to Commit Suicide-Is Taken Into Custody.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 13.—Sarah O. Breymer, aged 25 years, a pretty and cultured governess at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Compton. Millbrook, Dutches county, was found in her bed early this morning strangled to death. Frank Schermerhorn, of the same age, who is employed as coachman on the Compton place, has been brought to this city charged with the murder. Late today he made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide, cutting his throat with a razor.

What the Officers Found.

The county and Poughkeepsie officials spent the day at the Compton place, questioning all the maids and servants and Schermerhorn. They found that Miss Breymer's hands had been tied, the big chest containing the Compton silverware had been forced and several of the rooms were in disorder, making it appear that the tragedy had been the part of a burglary.

SPIRIT OF CONCILIATION SEEMS TO PREVAIL.

TAFT ADVICE FOLLOWED

President Still Considers All of the "Insurgents" Republicans-la Satisfied With the Progress Made

Washington, Jan. 13.—Following President Taft's advice to the republi-cans in congress yesterday to "stop quarrelling and get down to the party quarrelling and get down to the party legislative programme as quickly as possible," there were concrete evidences today of a definite attempt to bring the warring factions together upon some basis of at least temporary understanding. There seemed to be prevalent for the first time this session a spirit of conciliation and decidedly less of the bitterness of the past few weeks.

Hayes a Caller at White House.

President Taft let it be known that he still considers all of the "insurgents" republicans. Speaker Cannen announced that all republicans would be invited to the caucus on choosing the Ballinger-Pinchot committee next week and he hoped all would attend. Representative Hayes of California, one of the leading insurgents," made two trips to the White House. After the first of these he announced that attempts to adjust matters were underway. He then consulted with most of his-fellow "insurgents" and reported back to the president.

President's Test of Republicanism.

President's Test of Republicanism. President's Test of Republicanism.

President Taft declared again today that his test of republicanism will come when action is taken upon the legislative recommendations which he has made in compliance with the party platform. In his talks with Representative Hayes and other callers today the president said he was not withhôlding patronage from any republican senator or member of congress because of votes cast against Speaker Cannon, against the rules of the house or against the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The house of representatives today passed the fortifications appropriation bill. carrying more than $5,000,000. The senate, while it spent no money, put in more than two hours in discussion of whether it should allow about $4,000,000 worth of claims for additional salaries to certain postmasters who served during the decade from 1 164 to 1874. Senator Panrose attacked the claims as the work of claim agents.

The senate finally referred the whole subject of the claims to the committee on postoffices with the understanding that it would repore by February 1. The senate adjourned until Monday.

Considerable parties an feeling was injected into a discussion in the house of the destruction of about 10,000 tons of old and worthless documents. Among them were messages to congress from republic in and democratic presidents. This fact caused comment, both humorous and serious, as to the value of these documents, but they were ordered to the waste pile. New York, Jan. 13.—Mayor Gaynor this afternoon appointed another labor leader to office. His appointee was former Assemblyman Samuel Prince, who was named as deputy commissioner of licenses at a salary of $3.500 a year. of $3,500 a year. Prince was a candidate for the com-missionership to which Herman Rob-inson was appointed yesterday. The mayor decided to give him the deputy commissionership instead.

WHO FIRED AT SCHOOLBOYS

Arthur was conscious this afternoon

Arthur was conscious this afternoon and made a brief ante-mortem statement. He had never before seen the man who shot him. This is how he tells of their meeting:

"Hello, little boys," said the man. He had two pistols, one in each hand, and started to fire at us. Robbie ran to-ward the woods and I ran towards the rocks. The man followed me, and when I looked round he had stopped. Then I feit the bullet.

The parents of the boy scout a theory that he was mistaken for a nephew, whose life might have been sought in connection with an Armenian plot.

"The man must be a maniac," said Inspector McCafferty today. "No sane man would shoot down two innocent boys."

A.ragged, seemingly demented man was arrested today in the woods near where the shooting occurred. He is detained on a charge of vagrancy, but the detective bureau does not believe him connected with the murder.

While Cohen was being put through the "third degree" his wife made frantiv but ineffectual efforts to see him. She was finally forced from the corridors in a semi-hysterical condition. Late traight, accompanied by a lawyer, size managed to get to see her husband in the cell room of the central police station. There was a tearful and affectionate scene. She promised to stick by her husband, who in turn professed sorrow and repentance. After this interview Mrs. Cohen was overcome by her emotions and it was Angeles Aviation Meet.
